

ZOMBIE BLOOD: THE STORY.

Chapter 5: The Lie.

"The horrible riots that started in the morning of the past Saturday have been finally controlled by our heroic forces of security, and supported by the army. After a bloody battle against the savage rioters, and with the purpose to bring peace back again at the neighborhood of Montmartre, we have lost 138 men, and there are more than 240 wounded. Their sacrifices only strengthen our compromise with the defense of democracy and its institutions. We'll never give up against blackmail or the violence of those who can't understand the most basic rules of civilization, doesn't matter where they come from!

About the rioters, who from now on I'll refer, without any doubt or remorse, as bloody and inhuman terrorists, they have 580 wounded and dead. We are now at the first stages of the investigation, we think they came from all over France and Europe, armed as real guerrilla forces and with the objective of create huge incidents in the metro of Paris, and being able to blackmail the legitimate government of the French people.

These incidents have been so dire that this same morning I've passed at the National Assembly new laws, which have as objective strengthen our democratic system against the terrorist menace. This way, the development of the investigation is now in the hands of a special police force, created to this purpose: the AUZ (Antiterroriste Unité Zero). Now all the processes will be faster, and we, as nation, are protected against terrible and antidemocratic demonstrations. Also, there are some rights that are going to be suspended for a short time, to help regain complete control of the situation an avoid problems that could help our enemies in this dire moments.
